

This micrograph shows a cross-section of a normal choroid. A large, well-defined, pigmented lesion is visible, characterized by a dense, granular appearance. The lesion is surrounded by a thin layer of normal choroidal tissue, which appears less dense and more uniform in color.

E-B-G AD

gesamt aus Karte 20 P
(ohne Parkhäuser)

Inspeksi : 25 P